

Angel Child, Dragon Child
OCR 3rd grade Unit 1 Lesson 2
Readers Theatre

Mai: Wow! What was that black thing that darted across the floor?

Chi: I don't know. It went behind the desk.

Mai: Let's step back. I think it's gleaming.

Chi: I hear a jangling noise. Maybe it has a shiny collar.

Mai: Let's write a note to the principal asking for help.

Chi: I'll do it. I think I hear it now twittering.

Mai: You scrawled the note and you wrote in the margins. It's too messy.

Chi: You do it then. I'm too nervous. Don't use that crinkled paper.

Mai: Forget about the note. We could try to get it out of the room with cookies.

Chi: Where are we going to get cookies?

Mai: Your lunchbox.

Chi: I didn't hear you just say, "my lunchbox"?

Mai: Oh yes I did!

Chi: Why don't we use the cake in your lunchbox?

Mai: Why don't we think of a better idea?

Chi: How about we just leave and let the teacher take care of this problem.

Mai: I'm taking my backpack and getting out of here.

Chi: See you later alligator.
