

Sewed Up His Heart
OCR 4th grade Unit 3 Lesson 2
Readers Theatre

Mr. Hyde: Doctor, you've got to help me!

Dr. Jekyll: What's wrong? You look fine to me.

Mr. Hyde: My girlfriend left me and I have a broken heart.

Dr. Jekyll: How can I help you? That's not fatal.

Mr. Hyde: You're a heart surgeon. You need to suture it before I hemorrhage to death!

Dr. Jekyll: Maybe you should see one of my colleagues in psychiatry.

Mr. Hyde: I don't need your condemnation. I need relief!

Dr. Jekyll: Fine, lie down. I'll operate on you.

Mr. Hyde: Aren't you going to use anesthesia?

Dr. Jekyll: I'm very meticulous. You won't feel a thing.

Mr. Hyde: Ok, but hurry, I see my life passing before my eyes.

Dr. Jekyll: I'm making the first incision. I see your heart.

Mr. Hyde: Suture it up so it's not broken anymore.

Dr. Jekyll: (singing) "How can you mend a broken heart?"

Mr. Hyde: Why are you singing that? Don't you know what you're doing?

Dr. Jekyll: Of course I do! I'm just singing my favorite Al Green song.

Mr. Hyde: Is that going to help me?

Dr. Jekyll: No, but it makes me feel better when I have to deal with fools.

Mr. Hyde: Wait, you're not really operating on me. You think I'm crazy.

Dr. Jekyll: Yes I do. And I'm sure you're ex-girlfriend thought so too.
