

School

Dear Parents,

We are about to begin a unit called School. This explains your child's homework for this unit and what you can do at home to help.

---

What this unit is about:

- First days in school can be confusing but exciting
- Starting school means being away from people we love
- Starting school means you have new things and stories to share with people you love.

Students' Homework:

1. For homework, speak with your child about what they already know about school. Also ask them to think of a question they have about School that they would like to ask in class.
2. Each student will need to bring something that is related to School. The following are some suggestions.
  - Pictures from magazines, drawings, or bring photographs of:
    - People in school
    - Things that can be found at school
    - People who work at school
    - Things you do at school
  - Books or poems related to School.
  - Your own idea!

Each student will need to:

- Bring the object to school.
- Bring the attached sheet with a question they have related to school. Your child should come up with the question on their own, but an adult can write the question for him or her.
