Book 75 How Rabbit Caught Tiger

Tiger caught a tiny rabbit in his trap and wanted to eat him right away.

Rabbit said that he would show Tiger how to catch lots of fish if Tiger let him go.

Rabbit took Tiger down to the river. "Put your tail in this river. Soon lots of fish will grab onto your tail."

Tiger kept his tail in the cold river all night. It was dark. Tiger did not like the dark and did not like the cold river.

When the sun came up, Tiger asked Rabbit if he could take his tail out of the river. Then Tiger pulled and pulled. His tail was frozen in ice.

Rabbit was very smart. He fooled Tiger. Rabbit giggled and ran away.
